What is the IKWC Virtual Library?

An online collection of Indigenous-focused, multi-media resources created for First Nations educators, students, and parents.

Who created the Virtual Library and why?

The IKWC research team vetted and categorized existing resources about various topics related to Indigenous knowledge, languages, culture, and history, as well as, contemporary issues. Much of the material on the VL has been created either by, or in partnership with Indigenous Peoples. We have also added disclaimers to alert educators of sensitive material before introduction to younger audiences.

How does the Virtual Library support the content in the Treaty Kits?

Multi-media resources such as videos, mp3 recordings, podcasts, maps, images and lesson plan ideas enhance Treaty education lessons. This is particularly beneficial for visual and auditory learners.

What resources do you recommend for teachers who want to connect student to the authentic voice of our Elders?

The Virtual library contains numerous Treaty and Aboriginal Rights Research (T.A.R.R.) files. These interviews, conducted in the 1970's and 80's, are an authentic record of Elders who were either alive when the Treaties were made or were the recipients of oral history. They are primary sources portraying Indigenous perspectives on Treaty history.

What other resources can I find on the Virtual Library?

Virtual Library visitors can type related subject areas into the search bar. Some examples include: Colonialism, The Pass System, Residential schools, Truth and Reconciliation, Indigenous Activism, Lesson Plans, Identity, Assimilation Policies, Human Rights, Social Justice, Intergenerational trauma, and more.
